| They were fantastic. I like the division of duties with Dr. Bhatt focused on high-level topic development, methodology construction, and Pier working with me more on data and results. |
| Pier Creanza was incredibly helpful. He was very accessible, creative, and willing to put in time and effort to help me succeed.                                                        |
| Both Dr. Bhatt and Pier were phenomenal. I really appreciated the effort that they put into helping me learn more about this field of economics and research as a whole.                |
| Dr. Bhatt and Pier were excellent - keep it up! Very available to talk!                                                                                                                 |

| AI: Pier was very accessible and always eager to answer questions regarding my JP, which I deeply appreciated. I do wish we had more office hour slots throughout the week outside of Fridays and could receive more specific, line-by-line feedback on our drafts. |

| Nice guy, always asked to check in on us if we were understanding.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |

| Really well done and helpful                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| Very nice preceptor who was extremely helpful throughout the semester.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |

| The precepts were of excellent quality for sure. The preceptor fully used the 50 minute time slot and kept up at a fast paced while keeping the students engaged and running exercises that were similar to the homework.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| Throughout this course, the precept was acceptable. Additional information that built on the lecture was adequately explained, however, I felt as though too much time was often spent on regurgitating lecture material instead of presenting new and challenging material that built on previously established concepts. Additionally, I would appreciate it if the precept could be slightly more timely and not end an average of two to five minutes late each class due to back-to-back classes. |
| I didn't attend many precepts, but Pier Paulo seemed great in the few that I did.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| Great Preceptor, provided much assistance when prompted. He answered emails promptly and was very respectful.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |

| Precepts reinforced information for me and allowed me to cement understandings of concepts. Participation was encouraged and the preceptor was always there for help and made sure everyone understood before moving on                                                                                                         |
| These precepts contributed more to my understanding of the material than any of the other resources offered in this course. Pier presents at an efficient but digestible pace with enough time to answer questions and clarify confusing aspects of that week's topic. I could not have asked for a better economics preceptor. |
| very good, pier was clear and concise at summarizing the weeks material                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| The precepts were very helpful and my preceptor took feedback well throughout the semester. The information we learned in precept was much more clear and helpful for overall understanding than in lectures. He did a great job taking time for questions and explaining things that might be confusing.                       |
| Precepts were very helpful. They were straightforward to the material needed for PSETs and exams and the preceptor structured them in a way that was engaging and clarifying. I appreciated the use of mentimeter for student engagement.                                                                                       |

| The quality of precepts was excellent. Pier answered all questions that were asked and helped to break down content that was not clearly taught or understood. He helped to keep precept engaging with menti and made sure all students were prepared for weekly psets and upcoming exams.                                      |
